Dear Parents,

Bringing up a child is a voyage, and as a parent, you are the key navigator of your child's growth. His/her development is set primarily at home and in school, and when these two environments are attuned to each other, your child benefits the most. Working hand-in-hand with schools will help you better understand the needs and development of your child, so that you may give him/her the necessary family care, support and reinforcement at home. The active participation of parents is what makes school-home collaboration a simple, yet vital and powerful concept.

It is important for the parents to know what is expected of their child and how he will be evaluated in classes IX & X.
